

Overview of the tracks presented in the companion playlist that sonically illustrates the MSc thesis “Pan Records: a digital journey through the ethnic music niche”.

The Spotify playlist is available here.

“Utai IV: Reawakening”, “Morning in Japan”, “Hamachidori”, and “I Mori Makja Jano” are the tracks I used for the sound-elicitation segment of the student interviews.

“Sigit, Kargiraa, and Khoomei” is a track from Tuva - Voices from the Land of the Eagles, which is Pan Records’ most successful record to date.

“Return to innocence” is the Enigma song mentioned in section 3.5 of the thesis (Ethnic music biographies).

“Malkauns: Dhrupad in Chautala” is from an Indian music album for which Felix van Lamsweerde and Pan Records collaborated.

“Mangari” is from a gamelan album for which Ernst Heins and Pan Records collaborated.

“Left with the thought of you” is a song from the group Gangbusters, in which Frenk van Meeteren was a member.

“L’Anima du munnu” is from the eponym album of Luciano Maio’s group Taberna Mylaensis, which was a Pan Records production.

“Tronkata” is from the Čalgija album that Pan Records released during my internship.
